Six Reasons to learn Russian

6 причин изучать русский язык

1. Russia is one of the biggest and fastest growing emerging markets in the world. Working with Russia or inside Russia requires a good knowledge of the language. It will open many doors for you!
2. Adding Russian to any portfolio of languages is an asset today. From a career perspective, learning Russian is a very smart move.
3. Speaking Russian is essential for travelling from the Baltic Sea to the Pacific - one language across eleven time zones! This vast and fascinating territory offers plenty of opportunities to enjoy resort towns with spectacular beaches, and experience the taiga with its diverse wildlife and unexplored places.
4. It's much easier than it looks. Once familiar with the Cyrillic alphabet, students will find many similarities with other European languages.
5. Many world-famous literary masterpieces were created by Russian writers and poets: Pushkin, Griboyedov, Lermontov, Dostoyevsky, Turgenev, Tolstoy, Chekhov, Yesenin, and Akhmatova, to name but a few.
6. The Russian language is the key to unlocking the mysteries of the Russian soul.

Russian belongs to the Eastern-Slavonic group of languages included in the Indo-European linguistic family. Today's written script has existed since 1918, but goes back to the original Cyrillic alphabet. It contains 33 letters, of which 21 represent consonant sounds, 6 are vowel sounds and 4 are combinations of "j" and a vowel sound. There is also a soft (ь) and a hard sign (ъ), which are used only in combination with a consonant sound. The Cyrillic alphabet was created in the 9th century based on the Greek written language but with additional letters.

St.Petersburg

St. Petersburg

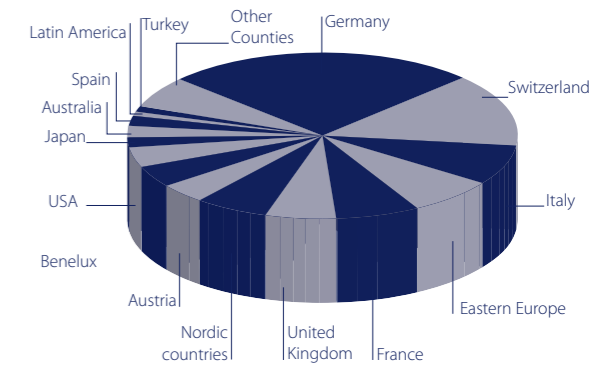

The city of St. Petersburg was founded in 1703 by the visionary Tsar Peter I who aimed to create a 'window to Europe'. This explains the numerous waterways and classical baroque architecture, reminiscent of Venice and Amsterdam. There is no doubting that St. Petersburg is the country's cultural capital. Here you can explore the Hermitage, home to one of the largest art collections in the world, not to mention the many theatres, galleries and museums waiting to be discovered. Although equally beautiful in the winter, during the summer the city really comes alive when the 'white nights' begin and the sun scarcely sets.

Our school

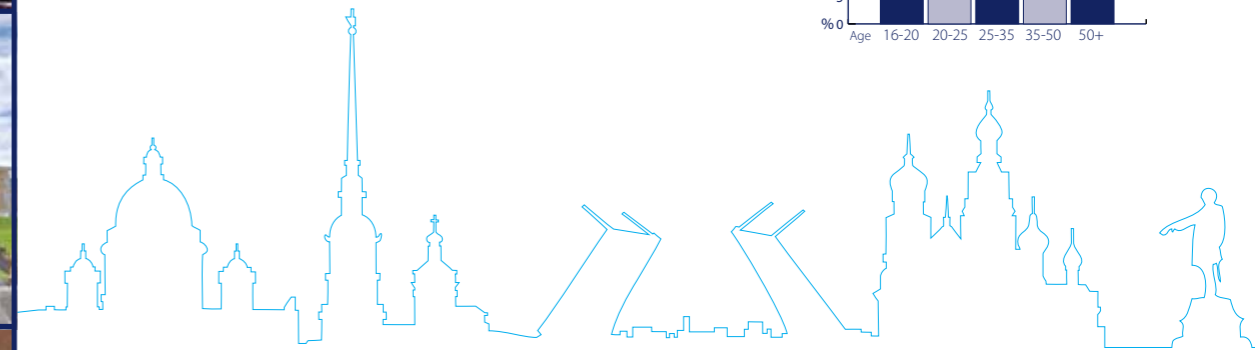

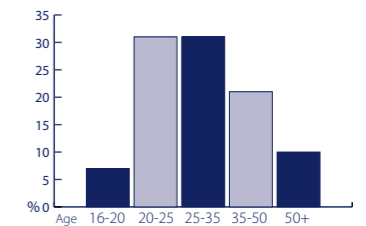

Liden & Denz is situated in the historic city centre, close to the well-known Nevsky Prospekt and about 300 meters from the nearest metro station (Gostiny Dvor) in a central but quiet neighbourhood. The school occupies the 2nd floor (no lift) of a 19th century building. We operate 13 spacious bright classrooms, all suitable for group or minigroup classes. All classrooms are equipped with modern wall-mounted TV/DVD sets. Our students have access to free wifi, a self-study centre and a small refectory.

Moscow

Moscow

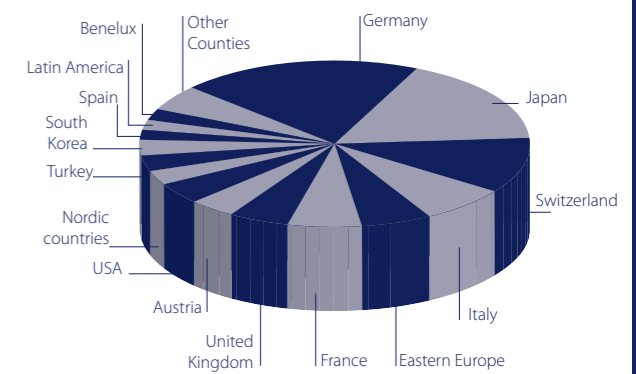

Moscow is Russia's economic and political centre where you can practically smell the wealth and luxury – after all, this is the city with more than 100000 millionaires. Despite having experienced many hardships in its long history, Moscow has successfully fought off countless invaders to develop into one of the most iconic capital cities of our time. After the Bolshevik revolution of 1917 the city became the central power organ of the USSR. This legacy lives on; the fast-paced metropolis never sleeps and presides over its residents with terrific Stalinist architecture and wide boulevards.

Our school

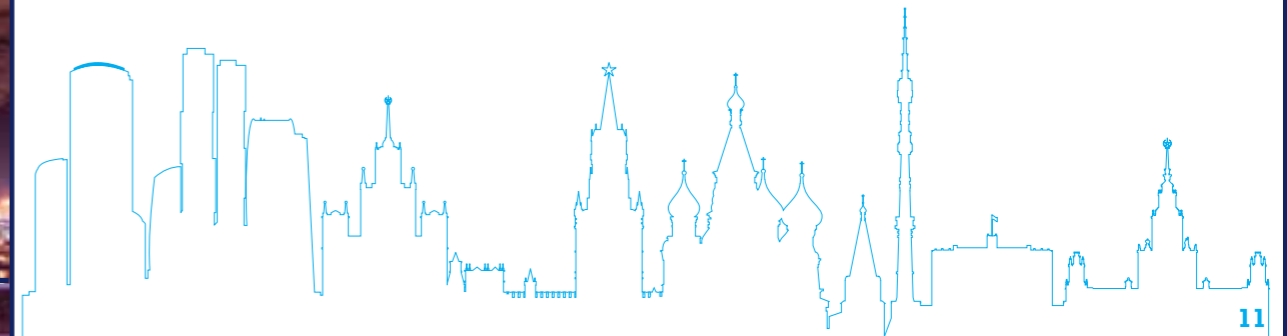

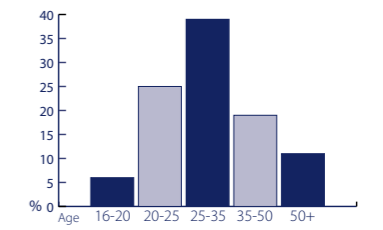

Liden & Denz is located in the central part of the city, a short walk from the Belorusskaya Railway Station, where trains from Berlin and Warsaw arrive to. Our premises are on the ground floor of a building that belongs to the Russian Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Most of the office space is used by foreign diplomats and accredited correspondents of the international press. The closest metro station (Belorusskaya) can be reached on foot in less than five minutes. Liden & Denz Moscow features ten classrooms and is equipped with the latest technology. Wifi is free of charge.

Riga

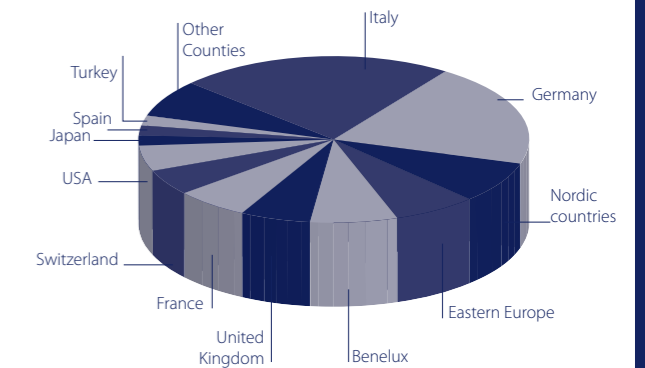

Riga

Riga is the capital of Latvia and the largest city of the Baltic republics. The nearby beach resort and beautiful parkland Jurmala lets everyone enjoy nature close to the city. Latvia gained independence from the Soviet Union in 1991. In 2004 the country joined the European Union. One of the results of the long lasting Soviet occupation is a high number of ethnic Russians living in the country. In fact, Riga is the only city outside Russia, Ukraine and Belarus with a clear majority of Russian speakers, which makes the city an ideal business hub for Russia.

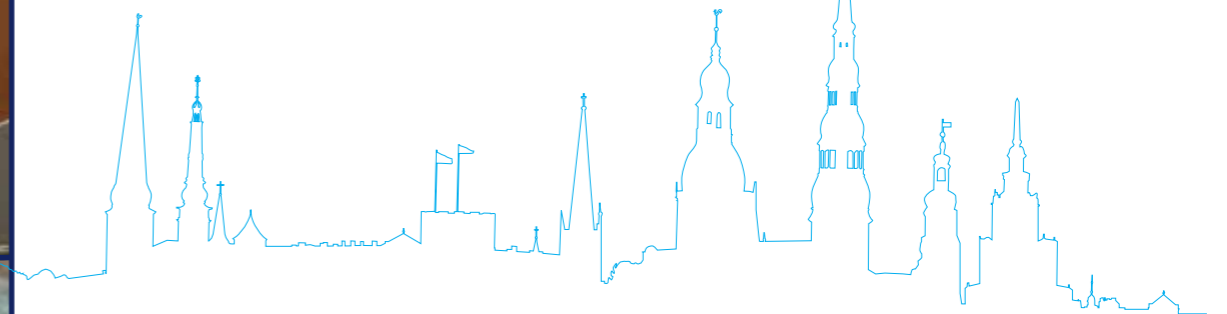

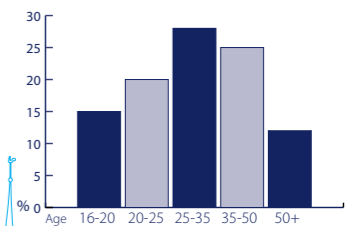

Our school

Liden & Denz in Riga is wonderfully located on one of the inner city boulevards right between the national Opera and railway station. There are plenty of cafes, bars and restaurants in the school area. To reach the historic centre of the city, you just need to cross the small canal on the other side of the boulevard. The school occupies the second floor (no lift) of a historical building and features 10 spacious classrooms. There is a nice lounge area with vending machines and a computer lab. Wifi is free of charge. Outside, the inner courtyard provides another great place to hang out and is frequently used for barbecues in the summer.

Our teachers

Наши учителя

All our teachers are native Russian speakers and have a university degree either in teaching Russian to foreigners (RKI) or Linguistics. In our language centres we pay particular attention to the professional development of our teaching staff. We train them in role-play, live discussions and creative work (drawing, story-telling) on a regular basis. We constantly evaluate new teaching materials and develop our own text books.

Our main goal is to enhance your communication, reading, and comprehension skills. We focus on mastering the Russian language in various communicative situations depending on your needs, starting from colloquial interaction up to proficiency. Additionally we provide training in reading authentic texts and Russian newspapers. The learning objectives are based on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) and are determined by the peculiarities of the Russian language.

At beginner level the objective is to establish the automatic reproduction of speech in every day situations. At elementary level the objective is to systematically approach basic grammatical forms, and to introduce a variety of communicative situations. At intermediate level we concentrate on expanding vocabulary, developing the ability to produce spontaneous speeches and conduct negotiations of professional interest.

At Liden & Denz Language Centres you will:

- Learn how to communicate in every day situations.
- Develop your comprehension skills by listening first to adapted and later to authentic ways of speaking.
- Learn how to use vocabulary according to your language competence.
- Develop your reading and writing skills by doing exercises at home, reading, analysing and retelling either adapted stories and, later, authentic Russian literary texts or official paperwork.
- Learn how to express your opinions in open discussions with students from other countries and give presentations.
- Develop your awareness of various ethical, cultural and historical issues, which will give you a better understanding of modern Russia.

Course Level

Уровень владения языком

In our group courses, we teach six levels of Russian year-round (beginner to intermediate) and eight levels during the busy summer period (adding upper-intermediate and advanced classes). For reasons of compatibility, we have adapted the framework of the European Language Portfolio. Lesson numbers in the table below are averaged, based on our experience with students passing through our centres. Students enrolling for a one-to-one course will need less time to pass from one level to the next.

1) average number of lessons (each 50 minutes) for a standard group course;

2) open group courses not available year round; 3) rarely requested level; only taught in One-to-one or closed group classes;

Group courses

Групповые курсы

The teaching method in our small multinational groups means there is no intermediary language. We teach Russian in Russian right from day one. This will develop your ability to interact in Russian much faster and also helps to overcome any language barrier. Our communicative approach to teaching makes the educational process both an enjoyable and efficient experience. Of course you will learn grammar alongside, but you will do so using new and exciting words and language skills adapted to daily situations.

Standard Group Courses

This course of twenty lessons per week is offered year-round, with a new student intake every second week, and follows a modular pattern of two-week units. The curriculum is built up like a spiral, which means that each new level of language acquisition starts with the revision of previously studied grammar constructions logically connected with different speech patterns. This has two advantages: group newcomers feel themselves involved in the learning process, while continuing students acquire new vocabulary based on previously acquired grammar material.

Groups are formed according to an assessment test, which is compulsory for everyone. Standard group courses are available for A1-B2 levels year-round. A very important minimum requirement for all group courses is passive knowledge of the Cyrillic alphabet. Group courses are held from Monday till Friday with a minimum course length of two weeks. There is no maximum course length.

Intensive Group Courses

Participants of our intensive group course will have twenty morning lessons with students who have booked the standard group course. The remaining five lessons are taught on two afternoons, offered at a minimum of three different levels:

A1 – Beginner: survival Russian tutorials, outdoor classes (shopping, eating out, getting streetwise, ordering theatre and cinema tickets) and telephone training (booking a restaurant table, making flight enquiries, etc.).

A1+/A2 – Elementary: lectures on the Russian mentality and traditions. Other topics cover a wide range of general interest subjects ranging from Russian cuisine to history.

B1 – Intermediate, B2 – Upper Intermediate: the focus is on business and the economy. Other topics include politics, Russian mass media, cultural and historical subjects.

Combination courses

Комбинированные курсы

Russian for Special Purposes (RSP)

RSP courses are a combination of a standard group course (20 weekly lessons) with an additional 5 weekly individual lessons (one-to-one). The group lessons are taken together with other students taking our standard course. The individual lessons focus on the specific needs of students working in one of the following sectors:

- Hotel and tourism (hospitality)
- Airline staff (flight attendants)
- Alpine ski instructors

These professional courses are tailor-made, open only to staff working in above mentioned areas and are very attractively priced.

Language Plus

Our Language Plus is designed as mini-group modules on Business Russian, Music and Literature. These modules can be taken year-round on official Group Courses starting dates. They can be booked only in addition to any Group or One-to-One course and consist of 5 lessons held in the afternoons.

One-to-One courses

Индивидуальные курсы

Teacher and student jointly determine the exact content of any one-to-one course. The student is invited to specify his/her field of interests by completing the relevant parts of our online booking form, which allows us to pre-select material, establish a study-plan and prepare a specific vocabulary.

One-to-one courses are available in varying degrees of intensity: 15, 20, 30 or 40 lessons per week. For 30 lessons or more the student is taught by a team of two teachers.

Individual courses can be booked throughout the year. The minimum course length is one week with each course starting on a Monday and ending on a Friday. On request, lessons can also be held on weekends. Participants may also book additional 5-lesson-modules as a supplement to any One-to-One or Group Course.

Exam Preparation

Подготовка к экзамену

Liden & Denz is an official preparation centre for the Test of Russian as a Foreign Language (TRKI). Currently the TRKI examination system consists of six distinct exams, ranging from elementary to proficiency level.

Why prepare the TRKI exam at Liden & Denz?

- Liden & Denz students consistently achieve high pass rates.
- Our teaching staff for the TRKI preparation modules is certified by the examination board to run these courses.
- Compared with state educational institutions, our groups are small. You also have the opportunity to book private lessons.

Preparation modules can be booked in advance or at school. They can start any Monday and can be taken only in addition to a Group or One-to-one Course. The exact number of modules required for the exam preparation is jointly determined by the teacher and the student.

Internships

Стажировки

Liden & Denz is one of the first organisations to offer meaningful study and work programmes in St. Petersburg, Moscow and Riga. Although the assignments we offer are all supervised by Liden & Denz, the experience inside our host organisations will be very authentic.

For legal reasons, most work experience assignments offered by us are unpaid. Students also need to be aware that accommodation and insurances must be covered by themselves.

Work experience students need a sufficient level of Russian in order to qualify for one of the places on offer. The entry level (language competence on arrival) should be at least A2. We further require a minimum of four weeks in a standard group course (or three weeks one-to-one) in one of our centres prior to the start of the work assignment.

The general minimum age for our work experience programmes is eighteen. However some host organisations do require a higher age.

Work experience programmes can last from two weeks to half a year, depending on the requirements of our host organisations.

"I was really satisfied with the teachers and the way of teaching. I think, I understand Russian much better now and I am not afraid to talk in Russian anymore." Isabelle Hinteregger, Austria

"I chose Liden & Denz after researching a number of Russian-language immersion programs. From my first day, it was obvious to me that I made a great choice. The administrative staff is exceptional. Every morning I am greeted by smiling faces. They are well-organized and very competent. They are also friendly, kind and supportive and always willing to help with whatever I need. The teachers are terrific. The student population is very diverse (nationalities, age, reasons for studying) and they manage to accommodate the different learning styles and needs. I love my teacher. Her class is both structured and fun. I am excited by the progress I am making thanks to her engaging lessons and patient guidance. Another huge plus for me is the cultural and social activities that the school organizes. These programs are great, not just for the insight into the history and culture, but also because they provide an easy way to get to know the other students. Lastly, as a serious laptop user, free wifi is just one more aspect of the school that I appreciate. I am very happy with my experience here. The Liden & Denz program has exceeded my expectations."

Home away from home

Дом вдали от дома

Choosing the right accommodation is an important decision, as you will typically spend more time at home than in the classroom. We understand that people have differing needs and interests. For this reason we offer several accommodation options so you can choose the best type for you.

Liden & Denz organises accommodation in host families, shared flats, hotels and apartments of all categories. While most students prefer the opportunity to experience Russian family life, our schools also offer competitive hotel rates to suit every budget, and various types of apartments mostly located in the city centre.

Homestay (host family)

What is a host family? Our host families are not always a traditional married couple with a child/children. Above all we look for someone who is sociable, likes to meet new people and can give a warm welcome to our students. Our host families will have time to talk to you; they are patient, understanding, caring and prepared to provide help with any problem that may arise during your Russian language stay.

We offer two packages for this type of accommodation: breakfast only and half board (breakfast and dinner). We only offer single rooms, but if you travel with your family or friend, we will do our best to provide you with a double room (strictly on request).

Our language centres have approved all the accommodation offered. Families and their homes are personally known to the staff member responsible at the school. Families are regularly inspected. The standard of the families is monitored by questionnaires (entry and exit) given to our students.

Shared flats

If you prefer independent living but at the same time wish to experience a true student atmosphere, you should choose our shared flat option. Our flats have single bedrooms (usually 3-4), a shared bathroom and kitchen. Bed linen, cutlery and dishes are provided. The flats are all equipped with TV set, telephone, washing machine and vacuum cleaner. The shared-flat option is no more expensive than staying in a host family, but no board is provided.

Hotels

The top end of the hotel market in St. Petersburg, Moscow and Riga can easily be compared with hotels in London or New York. While there is still some shortage of inexpensive mid-range hotels, within the past few years there has been some growth in the small pensions and three-star hotel market.

Studio-Apartments

If you want to live on your own you can rent an apartment with the help of Liden & Denz, selecting an apartment before your arrival, using the information (description and pictures) sent by e-mail. Alternatively, you can stay with a host family or in a hotel for the first week to give you plenty of time to choose the right apartment when you get here. Prices for apartments are similar to mid-range hotel rates.

Activity programme

Культурная программа

At Liden & Denz we support not only the linguistic development of our students, but also their cultural and social experience of life in Russia and Latvia. That is why we run a varied excursion programme which gives everyone the chance to see what our exciting destinations have to offer. Some activities are free such as the city walking tour the day after arrival and our frequent Friday cocktail parties. There are also day trips and weekends away to neighbouring villages and places of interests which are reasonably priced.

It is possible to see some of St. Petersburg's most prominent buildings during our free walking tour, where a wander down Nevsky Prospekt will surround you with its beauty. Apart from that, Liden & Denz offers excursions to the former Tsar residences of Peterhof and Ekaterinsky Palace, where you can get a taste of life in Imperial Russia. We also organise boat trips, Russian cooking lessons, brewery excursions and trips to nearby Veliky Novgorod and Pavlovsk, among others!

There's more to Moscow than the world famous Red Square and the Kremlin! A visit to the Capital city will also allow you to see the 'seven sister' skyscrapers, the church of Christ the Saviour and of course St. Basil's Cathedral. Included in our schedule are also trips to Moscow zoo, Gorky Park, open air cinemas and fascinating historical museums and galleries.

Relax on Fridays with a traditional Russian tea party with our teachers in Riga. You will get to know the historical centre well during your time here with tours to the central market, and rides around the city on the renovated tram. There are also excursions to the seaside suburb Jurmala. All trips of course provide an excellent chance to practice your Russian!
